AUSTRALIAN WARSHIP ENDS DARING RAIDS BY CRUISER EMDEN ON BRITISH SHIPPING

Kaiser's Daring Buccaneer of Seas is Finally Destroyed.

KOENIGSBERG IS BOTTLED UP

Since early in August London has sunk 22 ships worth $1,000,000 in value of cargoes. Most spectacular career since the Alabama.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—It was official today that the Emden, the German raider, had been destroyed. The ship was sunk by the British cruiser, the Koeningberg, on November 9.

The Emden was a small but fast and powerful ship. She was built in Germany and was the first of her class. She was commanded by Captain von Souchon.

During her career, the Emden has been successful in sinking many British ships. She has also been successful in capturing many British ships. She has been successful in capturing many British ships.

KOBACKER'S

THE BIG STORE
ON PITTSBURGH ST.

It is a sale of sales. If the amazing offerings quoted below does not spell opportunity nothing does.

Manufacturers' Outlet Sale Beginning a Fascinating Array of Bargains

MANUFACTURERS'

This double page is the first of a series of unprecedented value-giving announcements--the direct result of practically our entire buying organization with the aid of our permanent New York office, going into the market and making large recent purchases under conditions that have not existed since 1907--conditions that permit us to buy new high class wanted merchandise at practically our own prices--following our practice of going with the market and staying with the market and selling accordingly. These remarkable sales have been arranged; there is no panic; everybody wants to sell and few stores want to buy; consequently prices are down to where we feel this store would not be doing right by its large number of patrons unless it put itself into a position to pass these wonderful buying opportunities to them right now at the height of the season when conditions warrant everyone buying at the lowest possible price.

This move is revolutionary--but then when it comes to price, this store has always been revolutionary--you'll be amazed at just what these sales mean to you in the way of low prices on quality seasonable merchandise.

OUTLET SALE!

Not all the great values are found in this ad but thrifty buyers who come to the Big Store will be confronted with bargain surprises.

We never pass a good thing by--never lose an opportunity to give our patrons something out of the ordinary.

We dislike to use the word "sensational" but that's the only word that will adequately express the values that await you Wednesday, and at that we are not giving you all the news. Just run the items over and we are sure you will admit that the values are sensational, and when you see the merchandise--the quality--you'll admit that you have never seen such good merchandise sell at such low prices.
